Product Description

Automatic cosmetics mascara cap assembly and testing line automation equipment

The assembly machine is made of aluminum and stainless steel for convenient and quick assembly.

The production capacity of each process on the line is balanced and proportional. No bottleneck processes are allowed to ensure the continuity and stability of production.

Each process is arranged in the order of the production process of mascara shell covers, with a high degree of specialization. Each process usually only completes one or a few types of operations.

Material distribution is carried out around the assembly line. Raw materials and components are distributed on the line in a counter-radiation manner from each area as required.

Advantages:

Highly automated operation can significantly reduce the input of labor costs and improve the production efficiency of enterprises.

The equipment has reliable performance and can adapt to relatively harsh production environments such as high temperatures and dust.

The conveying process is stable and accurate, which can ensure the synchronous conveying of products and guarantee the accuracy of shell cover assembly.

It can effectively ensure the stability and consistency of assembly quality and reduce the unqualified rate of products.

The production process can be monitored in real time, problems can be quickly discovered and solved, which is conducive to improving the level of production management.
